

Porec Trophy

I'm again in Croatia to prepare the new season. This sunday was the Porec Trophy.

146 kilometer in seven laps was on the programm. Unfortunately there was a lot of wind. But the worst was the sidewind. It was not really nice to ride like this. Again and again there were gaps in the peleton. So already early of the race one group could leave. We never saw them again. In the middle of the race another group could leave. Again I missed it. In the last two laps the race was nearly over, just "easy" riding. Finally I was 54.
